Seminar

KEYNOTE SPEAKER:

MICHELLE KARNIS

Course # 975001

TOPIC: Challenging the Norms to Create Reform

It is still difficult in most schools and social circles to talk about the condition of the civil rights movement and the relationships between people of color and whites. But as educators, it's important for us to discuss why so many students of color are in special education, truant, incarcerated, or performing at below basic or far below basic. ALL kids need ALL teachers to know how to create inclusive school cultures that value everyone. This workshop will bring research based and practical strategies to those that want to know what it will take to educate every student to high standards.
