The district must provide certain services for students who qualify for special education under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). These services are provided at no cost to the student or their family. Special education services are based on the unique needs of each student.

In addition to the basic services provided under IDEA, the district may also provide additional services if specific criteria are met. These additional services may include

- Speech-language services
- Occupational therapy
- Physical therapy
- Allied health services
- Adaptive physical education
- Transportation services

The district will provide these services at no cost to the student or their family. The district will notify the parents of the services that are available and the services that will be provided to their child.

If the student qualifies for special education services, the district will develop an individualized education program (IEP) that outlines the specific services and supports that will be provided.

Parents and students have rights under IDEA to whom they can make complaints. These rights include

- Access to district policies and procedures
- Request for evaluation
- Participation in IEP meetings
- Appeal process for decisions made by the district

Parents and students have the right to review and request a copy of the IEP, as well as participate in any discussions about the IEP.

The district is responsible for providing a free and appropriate public education (FAPE) to all students with disabilities. This includes providing transportation services to and from the student's home and the school.

The district will provide transportation services at no cost to the student or their family. The district will ensure that transportation services are provided in a safe and timely manner.

The district will comply with all laws and regulations related to special education services, including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the Rehabilitation Act.
